TUESDAY, -- DECEMBER 2, 1856. The Louisville Journal's misrepresentation of the Democratic party is, perhaps, owing to the editor's entire ignorance on the subject. He still persists in delnding his readers with the idea that there is an irreconcilable difference of opinion in the Democratio party as to what shall Hampeh re, and Massachusetts, giving it as be done with Kansas. He tells them that the Northern Democracy all the while insist on making Kaneas a free State, and the Southern Democracy are for making it a siave State. Now we challenge him to find the proposition to make it one or the other, by any Democratic anthority it one or the other, by any Democratic anthority ritorics of the Union. More than this we have North or South. We chellenge him to find a man not sought to obtain. Less, if true to ourselves, North or South. We encloned number of the Democratic party, who is not pledged to his constituents to non-interfere with slavery in Kansas by Congress, and to admits a mish or mishout wisest, the best, and most patriotic in the land slavery, as the people there shall determine, with have resisted the late storm at the North, are not made of the yielding stnff.

Personal preferences may exist, and doubtless do exist, as to whether Kansas shall be a free or a siave State, and different opinions have been expressed as to the result; but the principles of Factions may strive to make false issnes, and emberrass the action of the government. As there is a party determined to make Kaneas free, every effort will be made to force the Democracy into its columns for that purpose, otherwise we shall reopposite, and they will swear lustily that the Democracy are governed by the slave power, and While Mr. Lake was commenting upon certain determined to make Kansas a slave State; but odious features which he conceived to be in the that they have done all the time; and with as Kansas bill, D. Walker remarked that if those much success in the past as they are likely to have in the future.

But what do Southern Know-Nothings expect to do? What is their policy? There are so few of them left that they couldn't well get up a quarrel. If the Democracy disagree, how will the Kaow Nothings do South or North either? Which eide will they take? Or will they manage to be on both sides, or on no side at all? What fallower would not do such a thing as an Amerifiattering prospects do they suppose open for them on the slavery question? They have tried to manage it, or to shun it, and have made the interest of the corruption of the old Whig party was purer they (the Americans) clung to it, but when it became corrupt by following the land of the December party in most noted failure ever seen in politics; and are, perhaps, so well pleased that they would like to try it again, and see, upon a second experiment if they can't make a more signal failure; so as to empass themselves in the sublime art of failing.

They need not cherish any such ambition or make any further efforts to gratify it. It is uni versally believed that they can out fail any party ex'ant. They have started out Know-Nothinge, and here proved themselves do-nothings; and the prospect is that they will improve in their characteristics in future. They will know and do more of nothing than ever. We don't exceet them to know much about the Democratic party brethren want some correct information, we advise them to read Democratio papers, and not trust their organs any longer. They have been grossly misled and deinded hitherto about parties and their objects; and until they undeceive themcelves, they will never be able to knew or do any-

The Louisville Journal is eternally prating With great respect, I am. sir, very truly yours, W. GILMORE SIMMS. about the great merits of Millard Filimere. It even pretends to bolieve that the country will, was not elected President.

It will be admitted that at one time Millard Fillmore had acquired the confidence of the people te a considerable extent, not for any great qualities they believed him to possess, but because in a peculiar crisis during his administration, under influences he could not resist, he performed a patriotic duty. He gave his reluctant sanction to the fugitive slave law as one of the compromise and the delays caused by the man's lasiness measures of 1850. This constitutes the whole of placed him, at the end of a few years, in the pashis claims to the confidence of national men. His administration was distinguished by no feature to command the respect and confidence of the

His political movements since have satisfied the people that the credit which had been awarded to him was unmerited. He has attached himself to a secret political party for purposes as evowed utterly opposed to the great principles of civil and religious fiberty, but in reality a corrupt organization to obtain office even at the expense of those priceless elements of our government. His friends may write their bloated encominms upon bim, but the judgment passed on him at the late election is irreversible. He will only sink lower in public opinion as time rolls on. We verily believe that Millard Fillmore is at this day the most uttend defined by the most uttend of the of those priceless ciements of our government. day the most utterly defunct politician who has held eminent position in the country.

The Delaware Sentinel, published at Dover, an organ of the self-styled American party, thus explains what the editor did at the late election, and why he did it:

tion, and why he did it:

In that contest, so vital to every great interest of the country, the American perty was impotent for good—would that we could stop there—the trnth, however, must be loid. In some of the States, in the haads of designing and corrupt leaders, it became powerint for evil, and by faelon with the Black Republican Abolition party of the North, sought to defeat the election of a Freedent hy the people. Even in one own State, where, at least, we had a right to presume that the party was sound and conservative, we were pained to see the "aid and comfort" that it gave the Abolitionists by its "clottings at their victories, and its regrets at their decates. Who does not remember that, when the October sheetings in some of the Northern Steles indicated that popular teeling in hat section was in favor of the Black Republican candidate, with what joy the news was all the party we could no longer act, and when the ocion name, we deposited our vote for the whole Desire of the substitute of the evident grant.

Our readers here witnessed the evident grant-

Our readers here witnessed the evident grati- has the following: fination of many Americans at the success of the Abolition party, and know the advice given to their partiesns in Indiana to vote the Abolition State ticket. It is certainly time for men to panse, when party necessity drives them to such a point. The organ of the Know-Nothing party here, as late as yesterday, thus exuited at the success of the Abolition State ticket in Illinois:

"One remarkable fact connected with the breaking of the shaft of the Pennsylvania, is that whe broke precisely at the same spot—56 miles above the city, opposite the saw-mill, and about two miles above the Valcorrine Sugar Refinery—bett that the Natches broke her shaft; and it is the opinion of both Uaptains Leathers and Klinefelter that there is something in the river which their that there is something in the river which their that there is something in the river which their that there is something in the river which their that there is something in the river which their that there is something in the river which their that there is something in the river which their that there is something in the river which their that there is something in the river which their that the name spot—56 miles above the city, opposite the saw-mill, and about two miles above the Valcorrine Sugar Refinery—opinion of both Uaptains Leathers and Klinefelter that there is something in the river which their that there is something in the river which their that there is something in the river which their that there is something in the river which their that there is something in the river which their that there is something in the river which their that there is something in the river which their that there is something in the river which their that there is something in the river which their that there is something in the river which their that the river which their that the value of the city opinion of the transition of the river and the river which their that the value of the river and the river which their that the value of the river and the river which the isation of many Americans at the success of the on for some time. The equatters' claims are strictly respected; but the Fremont journals are not satisfied. Col. Buford has bought a good eal of land they say, and that looks suspicious. There are eastern speculators on hand, and one rrespondent seems to think their chief object get rid of their money. The chrickers don't like Gov. Geary, notwithstanding he re-arrested the prisoner let off on bail. We expect the shrickers will leave Kaneas soon, and that territory will become a very commonplace affair, like other territories. It has not served the chrickers' purpose of making a President, and will be set down as of little account.

The Know-Nothing party has quit splitting—the party having got too small for that—and

Message of the Governor of North Carolina.

Governor Bragg, of North Cerolina, sent in his annual message to the Legislature of that State on Wednesday last. The debt of the State in bonds is $5,038,802 55 and the annual Interest paid on scattum $300,288 15. The receipts of the public treasures, for the two years auding Os-ober, '56, were $7 9,171 00. The order by exober, 56, were $7.9,171.60. The order by exingovernment for the two ingovernment for a section of $25,000 per year.

The Atlantic and ingovernment for Goldsboro' to Shepherds
Point and a jarge provision in graded The Point, and a large portion of it graded. The Western North Carolina Railroad route has been almost surveyed, and that portion of it from Salisbury to the Catawba river, has been located. A lutther appropriation of $300,000 is required for the Deep River improvement. The whole number of children at school in the State is 140,000 The Governor recommends military schools, and saggests furnishing them with arms by the State. He transmits letters from Hon. John L. Wheeler, whose slaves were seized in Phitadelphia, asking the aid of North Carolina in the suit to recover them. He also transmits at large arms and the second of them. Ho also transmits anti slavery resolutions forwarded to him by the Governors of Ohio, Nes opinion that it would be totally useless to reply to them. The following passage about federal af-

> HOW A FORTUNE WAS MADE BY LAZINESS larly unfavorable to thrift and the equicition of wealth. Like all general rules, however, it has its exceptions, one of which we recently heard of, in which laziness positively made the fortune of a men. A few years ago our hero, who was about the lariest man in the country, became possessed of some property in Chicago. Too indolent to take care of it, he gove directions to have it seld, and did actually dispose of it at various times, bul sore too lazy to make out the deeds. Mean ession of an estate worth some $200,000, for which at first he would gladly have accepted $20,000.

The Perils of the Seu, An Oceen Steamer, in her glory ree before the blast, Which sweets the water And becom the ilta Rin beare no tri id a goms,

But a liv - a . un of souls she has, And cheeks which never yet have paled Upon the stormy sees,
And eyes which flash, as they enward dash,

And eyes which nach, so easy children
In pride on a sea of gold,
And spirits of love, which, like the dove,
The emblems of peace uphoid.
May God in his mercy protect that ship As she walks the waters round, For on her flag of stripes and stars
Are the sweet words, "Homeward-bonnd,"
"Homeward-bonnd"—dark eyes flash,

"Homeward-bonnd"—dark eyes flash,
And strong hearts leap with joy,
And smiles light up the pailld blow
Of the wandering sailer boy.
Visions of hope and home well worth All pearls that the diver e'er found,

At the whispered "Homeward bound,"

Tetlittle they know, that happy crew,
As they plowed the yessy wave, [resched;
That the home they sought would never be
But a home beyond the grave. Tis night upon the ocean-

The stars light up the sky,
And the wailing of the low sea winds
Co-es like a mourner's sigh.
They disappear, those twinkling stars,
Which were mirrored in the tide,
And the Storm Goldlings his banners out,
O or the Ocean far and wile;
And the winds which serres an hour ago
Seemed pillowed on the deep.

Seemed pillowed on the deep,
Now loosed from their chain, swept over the main,
And wake the billows from sleep. In vain, in vain is thestrong man's strength. In vain the pure heart's prayer,
For the spirit of wrath hovers over their path,
And the angel of death is there.

And the sable plnmes of his rustling wings Cast shadows dark and dear O'er that vessels freignt of holy things-Of souls that know not fear. The ship like an Ocean bird speeds on, On, on in its destined way,

And there's none to protect her from the wrath

Of the waves, or the winds to stay. On a hidden rock, with fearful shock, She's dashed mid the breakers high-One moment she struggles - 'tis only on And the sinks forever and aye!

Beneath the szure billows,

Where the tempess its banner furls,
And the Sea Gods rear their palaces
On heds of coost pearls.

On beds of coon pearls: Yes, yes, full many a fathom 'neath The wreathing foemy wave Sleep the jewele of this world of ours-

Her nobio, good, and brave!

Above them sweeps without remorse
The dark blue ocean surge—
And the waiting winds their requiem chaunt,
And the meaning waves their dirge.

Is WOMAN A BLESSING! -That was not a bed idea of some mysterious stranger, bearing the high-sounding name of Thos. De Belancouri Ag. ramonte, who, being strack so forcibly with the charms and merits of the strong-minded women-who have recently met in convention in New York -interrupted the proceedings of the convention, by requesting that the men present would unite with them in a prayer of thankfalness to God for such a great blessing as woman. The audience were struck with profound silence by the propo-eition; and the pions and gallant stranger pro-ceeded, with great fervor, to repeat the Lord' Prayer in a loud tone, paraphrasing a portion of it as follows: "Give as this day our daily bread, and as follows: "cure as this day our daily bread, and give us good ladies, and forgive them their trespasses." This ovident sincerlty of the speaker relieved his conduct of all irreverent intent, and entitled him to better treatment than he received from the strong-minded ladies, who do not appear to think themselves such great b sier all that man should be especially thankfu

The truth is, Senor Belacourt had unwitting! offended the eprit de carps of the assembly. The strong-minded laties do not want to be regarded as blessings, it is an assembly upon their eyetem, a degradation of their high r speak of them as hoaven's gifts—as the favors of Providence—just as you would speak of sunshine, of fruits, flowers, and other pleasant contributions to man's happiness inth sails. Their philosophy would give woman a higher position in the creation—that of a counselor, adviser, ruler and directer of man—a stern participator in all those cares, and labors, an struggles, which man now endness, mainly from the hope of whining the smiles and love of these gardle, sweet female somes, who, under the new than 12 to 12 emiles and love of these gentio, savet female sco-men, who, under the new Lucy Stone, Horace Greeier, and Wendest Phillips regime, are to be unsirely abolished—compelled to abdicate in far-wer of these stern, sharp nesed, thin-lipped, there-haired, and angular-limmed masculine women whi wear pantaloons, harangue in public, and propess to revolutionize society and set aside the order of affairs prescribed by the founders of our holy religion, and so emphasically enjoined in the Holy Soriptures .- Cin. hen purchasing stock be sure and take no other The Weekly Democrat.

We are preparing for a new and beautiful suit of type, large, clear, and distinct, with which to commonee the new year.

The Democrat will otherwise be materially imimproved for the general reader. Of its political character it is unnecessary to speak. In its commercial department, it has been as full and general as a weekly publication could well ba made. Its news, miscellaneous, and general literary character will be greatly enhanced by the contributions and aid of some of the best pens in the country. Each number will contain an original or selected story, which, we know, will please thousands of our readers to peruse during ; the long winter nights. And with these features, which will make the Democrat still more acceptable to the general reader, we hope our friends generally throughout the South and West, will not be remise in forwarding their subscriptions for we rely on their prompt attention as a mean of furnishing them with a paper which we shall improve in proportion to the increased annual

New Firm-Change of Warehouse. It will be seen by an advertisement in our columns elsewhere that Harrison Bridges has assectated with him, in the tobacco business, Capt Charles R. Harper, an old citizen of Louisville and a first-rate business man. The Todd Warehouse, under the central of Mr. Bridges for many years past, has enjoyed a most extensive patronare, and now, in removing to the Pickett Warehouse, corner of Ninth and Malp streets, where the house is better adapted, we may expect a large and presperons business to follow Mesers. Bridges & Harper to their new location.

They are both fully identified with the tobacco interests of our city, and, from the prompt and efdejent manner in which they have served tobacco growers generally, of course the trade will follow them to their new house, one square below the old stand.

HOWARD FRUALE INSTITUTE.-We direct the attention of readers to the oard of Mr. Joseph S. Fowler, President of this institution. We nosiced at length, some months ago, the plan upor which this school is organised. It is under the anspices of the I. O. O. F., and is in successful operation, It is located at Gallatin, Tenn. most eligible site, famous for its salnbrity, and with an excellent corps of teachers it must soon become the leading seminary for young ladles in our neighboring State.

A Good Sugaration.-Judge Johnston very justly remerked in his Court yesterday, that, ewing to the pernicious system of hailing offenders out of the Work-house, the law for the pan ishment of minor offenses was in a measure inoperative. As is the case in most cities, it the law could be so reformed here as to make elight misdemissors punishable by fine, there would be an immediate falling off in the number that grade of ofenders.

Everybody and everybody's wife and sweet beart were a chearlal countenance ye-terday is view of the arrival of "the good time coming" a much talked about i We may now expect coal at a fair price, and the Rip Van Winkle sleep of steamboate to be broken up in the general puff upon our shores. The times were greatly out of joint, but y-seterday's indications upon the siree: were that they are in again. We shall see!

SUPPRITIED INCENDIARIES .- Granville Shields, white was a, and Reaben, a slave of W. P. Behn, were before the Police Court yesterday, charged with an inconding decigo upon Banner's rope-walk, Mr. Curry having overheard them make threats to that eff et. Mr. Hahn gave Shields a good reputation, and promised to be responsible for the negro, whereupon they were dis-

DISORD'GRLY HOUSE AND PARTY -In an attempt to make the arrest of Mrs. Mary McCaun, for draw kenness and great disorder in her honse, the off: er was assaulted by her busband, Michael McCan s, and a ferecione bail-deg. The whole party, with the exception of the bull-dog, were brought before the Police Court resterday. Mish sel was let off, and Mary was held to bail.

wa frants egalnet tavern-keepers, for celling liquor . Sundey, were tried before the Police Court yesterday. Tavern-keepers have a right to furnis), their boarders with liquer on the Sabbath, bu's are not warranted in throwing their bars open to the public. One warrant was dismissed, and of hers were continued.

STRAMER DEPLANCE SUNK .- As the steamer Defiance was going up the Muskingum river on Saturday, with two hundred barrels of flour on board and two boats in tow, she struck a enag leased from the Work-honse yesterday of bail. and sunk in a few minntes. She now lies in about eight feet of water, right side up, and can probably be raised without much injury.

an, one of the oldest residents of Louisville, upon his own representation, having worked upon the canal during its first construction, and upon every street which has been opened in the city, was before the Police Court yesterday for drunkenness. He was lectured and let off.

OUT OF THEIR ELEMENT .- A brace of Hooslers plan. etrayed over on this side of the river on Saturday, and got on a big drnnk. For the information of the old folks at home, we record their names: Augost Kinder and John Root. They were held to bail yesterday by Judge Johnston for their good TROUBLESOME BOYS. - Tim Landawn and Wm. Tousey were arraigned before the Police Court vesterday far disorderly conduct, and, among of er things, upon the charge of stoning the persen vis and domicile of a German shoemaker. Tousay's mother entered into bonds for their fnture good behavior.

AN Excellent Poen .- "The Perils of the Sea," in a rether column, is from the pen of a young gentlaman of this city of modest literary pretensions, but of high merit. His etyle is pleasing, and he should be encouraged by the re-

Accident .- The steamer Fairfield, leaded with passengers and cott. to from the Tombigbee, etruck a snag on Tuesday evening, 18th ult., at 11 o's lock, when about two and a half miles from Mobile. A hole two feet by three was broken

INDULATING A WEARNESS .- Mary Fisher, a fool ish Bayarian woman, was before the Police Court yesterday as a enspected felon. She has a weaknes for picking up other people's clothes, and appropriating them. Let off on the score of VACRANCY .- A gipsying kind of woman, who support, visible or invisible, was seat to the Work-house yesterday by Judge Johnston. diceman in an alley, on Saturday night, very drunk and boisterous. He was held to bail by

Fact and Fancy.

For many pleasant evenings yet to come, the PAIR AT ODD-FELLOWS' HALL,

For the benefit of the widows and orphans of de eesed fremen, and for the benefit of superanuated firemen themselves, will be the attractive point in this city. This enterprize commends itself in peenliar manner to every citizen. Heavy demands are annually made npon the Fire Department for charities of this kind, and while they have done much good in supplying the wants and elleviating the sufferings of indigent families who have elaims upon the charities of the people of Lonisville, they have been utterly unable to exereise that liberality which they could desire. A trifling contribution, just at this time, will place the department upon a high ground of usefulness. Odd Fellows' Hall has been most tastefully and beautifully decorated by the enterprisng ladies who have been induced to take the matter in hand, and the Fair which commences this evening, we predict, will be one of the most leasant and successful entertainments of the tind ever given in Lonieville. Speaking of charies, the attaches of

THE CHESTNUT-STEERT HOSPITAL

A NEW ENTERPRISE -We learn that the company which owns the regular line of boats be ween this city and St. Louis, have determined o establish a regular trade between this city and Memphis. The splendid steamers Northerner and Southerner will compose the line, and there are few better boats upon the Western waters.

The Northerner, Captain James F. Smith, wil pen the trade, leaving this port to-day. Sae senly northern in contradistinction to the Southerner; Capt. Smith being a Sonthern man, and the boat being decidedly Southern in all her pro clivities. J. S. Archer, E.q., one of the most popular olerks upon the Western waters, controls the chies. It remains now to be seen whother an enterprise which has long been needed will be meouraged to a degree which will insure success.

FOR NEW ORLEANS, FROM CAIRO. - The rolen ed steamer T. C. Twitchell, Capt. H. W. Smith, I the Caire and New Orleans Mail Line, all pos tively leave Cairo on Fridey, tho 5th inst, for he South. Persons desiring to go South, by taking any of the packets which touch at Cairo orier to the 5th, can avail themselves of a magnifromt heat and splendid secommodations.

BURIAL CAORS .- W. Wyatt, Esq., corner of Seventh and Jefferson, has received another lot of those really appropriate barial cases, the Terra Cotta Coffins. This article is a most ingestous and durable piece of workmanship, and very beautiful. He has elso every other description of burial cases. Call and see him.

House at their last session sent a commission to tresligate the affairs of the Territory; and, fler full deliberation, the House decided that no alid election had been held, and honce Whitfield was ejected from his seat. What change had taken place in the organic act of the Territo since last session? Its Legislation stands as did six months ago, when the delegate was rejected. The legislation was an usurpatlor, its acts characterised by nuprecodented syranny and unconstitutional wrongs; its laws the blackest and most odious to be found among shose of espotism. The House was now asked to overespotism. The House was now asked to ever-brew its decision and give validity to transcus sis, forced upon an unwilling people by the semi f Government being used to shield the invadere? and the laws of Kansas.

At the last session, Whitfield was sworn in, and his credentials referred to the Committee or Elections, who reported adversely to his taking a seat, and in layor of Reeder. A vacancy was scented. Whitfield was elected to fill that vaency, and is now bere for that purpose. You, the gentleman from Pennsylvania proclemed that this question was adjudicated and decided last section. The gentleman, while voting against Whitfield, assigned as a reason for doing so, that by was elected under an intenstitutional coast-ment, but he voted for Recder to take his seat in the absence of all law. Grow explained: He had stated that the people of Kaneas were entitled to the representation, and he desired to bestow it in that way as proper under the peculiar circum-
